

What are digital badges and what can I do with them?

Jelena - 2024-07-31 - Badges

Digital badges are validated indicators that show you have acquired certain knowledge or skills. You can use them to demonstrate that you have completed the tasks and covered the topics in each module. You can place the badges on your online profiles, or import them into your Badgr Backpack. The Badgr Backpack is a place where you can collect all your digital badges from a variety of courses and training providers. You can provide potential employers with a link to this Backpack, so that they receive a clear overview of your accomplishments. For more information, check out this page.
